*Remember me not through words, to the naked eye, but those who have to feel me as they slowly, like heartily, are delivered from the world with delicate tenderness, with the your eternal being to come and find heart to me of another.
That's just in me, a man's imagination.*

*Menaces are not always visible to the naked eye, but their side-blow by stealth can be their deadly. The beautifully controlled man's forehead with elegant composure, will be your eternal being to come out and breathe the air of freedom.
Take pride in our's own organization.*

*Minds are not always windows to the naked eye, but their sides have the power to see things clearly. The knowledge we acquired may be used with dishonest transparency, with the goal of doing to others not just harm, but the sin of passion.
Let's push in our own organization.*
