The traditions, customs, and culture of the land seem to be alive in people's respect and careful preservation with their sarees. From a simple Navratri celebrating every festival with enthusiasm to even provide wearing clothes of their own during festivals—Kerala, Karnataka, Mysore, and the Bangaloo are popular for them. Through the way women wear sarees and their traditional jewelry, they express the culture, the spirit of the land, and a sense of pride in their heritage. The saree draped to it, when one looks back the more confidence and beauty of the Indian women. Though we've changed, our sarees have stayed, but what hasn't changed is the charm of the Indian saree. Sure, the way women dress the country has changed a lot, but the way they dress may differ from region to region, generation to generation, but saree has not compromised. Both with the passage of time,
